Petitioner raises three grounds. In the first, he alleges that “since a 1962 arrest after being expelled from a [sic] adult high school . . . . until present time a conviction hasn’t been legal. . . the sentencing phase need further review. Pet. at 5. His other grounds appear to be related, stemming from the requirement, following his 2000 conviction for stalking, that he register as a sex offender.

It appears that petitioner is challenging judgments from more than one state court in a single petition; this is not permissible under the habeas rules. Rule 2 (e), Rules Governing
